"The staffing industry is a bellwether for the economy as a whole," commented Barry Asin, executive vice president and chief analyst, Staffing Industry Analysts, Inc. "We asked companies to submit revenue data starting in 2001 - when, as one executive told us, 'the phones stopped ringing' - to the end of 2005 - by most measures a great year for the industry. Interestingly, three of the companies in the top 10 of this year's list were founded in 2001: Platinum Select, Insight Global and FirstTeam Staffing. The outstanding growth of these firms is a sign that the industry and the overall job market is alive and kicking."

Ten of the 32 companies in this year's "25% Club" also made the 2005 list. The companies averaged 61.4% growth over the years 2001 through 2005. Median growth was 42.1%. To be eligible for inclusion in the "25% Club," a company must be privately held, have had sales of at least $1 million in 2001 and be willing to have revenue numbers published and verified. To qualify for the final list, companies had to average at least 25% annual growth, adjusted for acquisitions, for the period between 2001 and 2005. The ranking is based on an average of the company's percentage of revenue increase from 2001 through 2005.

The companies on the list represent a cross-section of the industry, encompassing various kinds of professional and commercial companies, including healthcare, information technology and legal. Each of the top 10 companies on the list is profiled in the latest issue of Staffing Industry Report.
